„Der Icefield Parkway – wilde Gebirgslandschaften mitten in den kanadischen Rockies“

Vortrag - Teil 1 - in englischer Sprache mit Hans Peter Münster

In the Canadian province of Alberta you find one of the most scenic mountain roads you can think of – Highway No 93, the Icefield Parkway. Travelling along from Jasper southwards to Lake Louise you come across beauty spots like the mighty Athabasca Falls, spectacular mountains, beautiful lakes in dramatic valleys and – most importantly – the Columbia Icefield with its ever receding glacier, a testimony to our climate change.

You might even see some wildlife like mountain goats, wolves or the occasional bear which can make pitching a tent or walking in the vast forests a hazard which should be avoided if possible. For travellers out to see breathtaking scenery this is a journey not to be missed by any means.

Eintritt 4,00 Euro – Voranmeldung nicht erforderlich.
