Gärten auf Madeira

Vortrag in englischer Sprache mit Hans Peter Münster

Madeira in Mid-Atlantic is a typical “island in the sun” with a mild subtropical climate dominated by the Passat winds. So it is no surprise that English families like the Reids and the Blandys left their marks in the shape of beautiful gardens still popular today.

In addition visitors can find a surprising variety of indigenous gardens all around the island with features ranging from public parks to fish breeding and growing bananas.
